

EP developed app to support phonics

Kirsten Branigan and Shane Gallagher (now working in Camden) developed a series of apps for iPhones/iPads in collaboration with Cambridge University, to support children to learn phonics and high frequency words. It would benefit 4-6 year olds and older children who need to develop skills and is easy for parents to do with children.

The apps are called 'cambugs' and are found on the iTunes store and we have some videos on YouTube if you fancy sharing.
