A Day in the Life of an Actuary...with Canopus

Actuaries are problem solvers and strategic thinkers, who use their mathematical skills to help measure the probability and risk of future events. They use these skills to predict the financial impact of these events on a business and their clients.

Come and learn more about this exciting AND highly paid role in the City. Being led by volunteers from the leading Insurance firm Canopus, you will explore what an Actuary does, what their day to day role looks like, as well as taking part in interactive activities where you will be able to practice the skills necessary to succeed within the role. You will also have the opportunity to ask questions to and network with a variety of volunteers from Canopus.

Canopus are an independent (re)insurance company with a strong presence both at Lloyd's in London and across the globe, backed by private equity owners with a large asset base that enables them to capitalise on the ever changing market.
